1. The project. Aldar and Dubai Holding plan a "very large" villa and townhouse community "above the Blue Line extension", near Dubai Silicon Oasis, to launch by end-2026. It is Aldar's fourth Dubai project. Name, size, prices, payment plan and handover date are not disclosed.
2. Expected price. We expect AED 1,400–1,650 per sq ft of built-up area: about AED 3.2–3.8m for a typical 3-bedroom townhouse of ~2,290 sq ft. Anchors: Aldar's own ladder of launch prices (Haven 1,228, Athlon 1,360, The Wilds 1,875) and what two- to three-year-old Emaar townhouses resell for today (1,389–1,430).
3. Aldar raises its prices at every launch and still sells out. Launch price per sq ft rose 11% from Haven to Athlon and 38% from Athlon to The Wilds. The three launches produced 3,552 registered sales worth AED 17.9bn.
4. Sales are launch-driven. 851–1,260 homes (AED 4.0–5.9bn) were registered within 12 months of each announcement, most of it between months 3 and 9. After that the pace drops to 20–50 homes a quarter per community.
5. The after-market is the soft spot. Resale prices at Haven and Athlon grew +3.2% and +4.3% in 12 months; Emaar, Damac and MAF peers grew +9.5% to +13.4%. Aldar buyers also resell sooner (median 411 and 390 days after buying, against 667–786 days for the peers).
6. The edge is location and brand. Aldar's CEO places the project "above the Blue Line extension" (Metro Blue Line: 30 km, 14 stations, opening targeted for September 2029). Haven, Aldar's closest community, is 5.2 km from Dubai Silicon Oasis. No townhouse sale has been recorded in Silicon Oasis in five years, so a large townhouse community there would be new supply for the area.
7. The gap is delivery. Aldar has no completed home in Dubai yet; the first handover (Haven) is due in 2027. Emaar, Damac and MAF townhouse communities already trade as completed stock.

> View. At or below ~AED 1,650 per sq ft the launch should clear quickly on Aldar's record and leaves room above the resale prices of ready Emaar townhouses. At Wilds-style pricing (AED 1,800+), the resale data say the buyer's upside is thin and the sales pace would be tested by a market that is cooling. This is a data-based view of an unlaunched project, not investment advice.

Haven is the nearest comparable: 5.2 km from Silicon Oasis and 3.6 km from the planned alignment. Athlon and The Wilds are about 11 km away, Emaar's Arabian Ranches 3 about 8 km. Damac Lagoons and Tilal Al Ghaf are 21 km away.

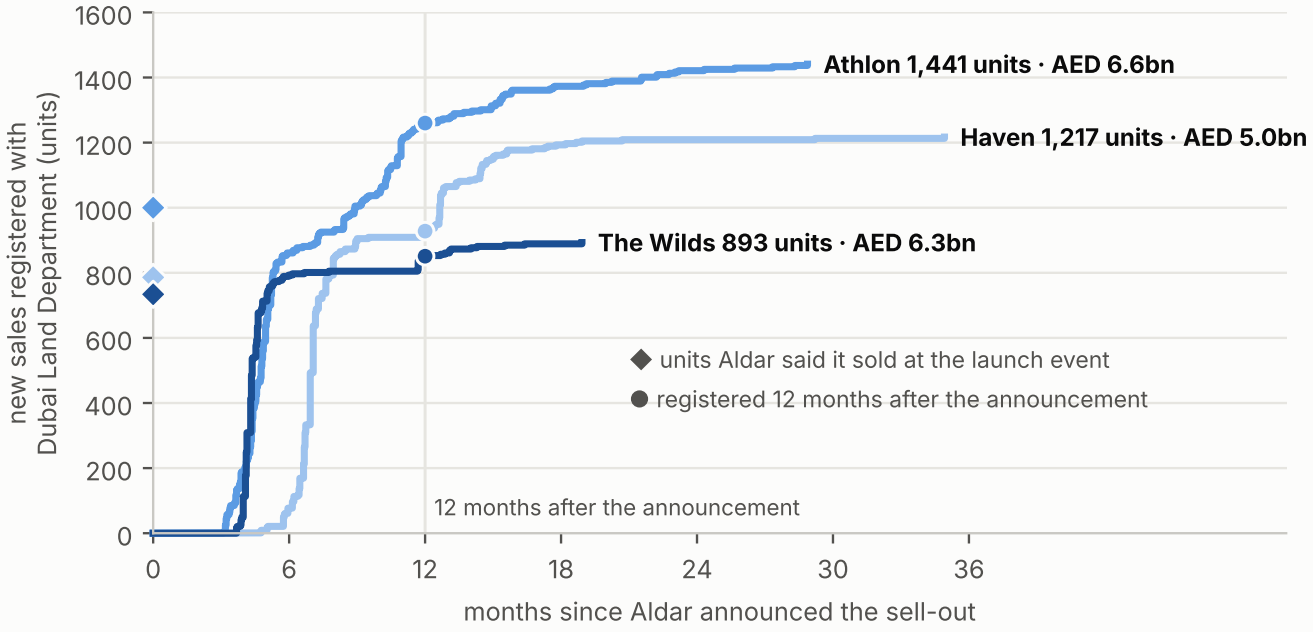

Silicon Oasis has no townhouse sales yet. The Dubai Land Department records show zero townhouse transactions there in five years. Its 158 villa deals are 92% resale of older stock (median size about 3,900 sq ft), selling at AED 1,295 per sq ft over the last 12 months, +6.8% on the year before.

The Blue Line is the differentiator. 30 km, 14 stations, opening targeted for 9 September 2029 (RTA via Dubai Media Office). None of the Aldar, Emaar or Damac comparison communities sits within 3 km of the alignment.

Distances are straight-line from the median coordinates of each community's transactions to the Dubai Silicon Oasis centre and to the nearest point of the OpenStreetMap Blue Line alignment. The new site's exact position is not public, so treat all distances as indicative.

Aldar's Dubai record: three launches

Community	Aldar announcement	Registered new sales to date	Registered by month 12	Lag to first registration	New-sale AED/sq ft	Expat + overseas buyers
Haven	1 Nov 2023 · 786 homes · AED 3.1bn	1,217 · AED 5.0bn	928 · AED 4.0bn	4.1 mo	1,228	77%
Athlon	9 May 2024 · 1,000+ homes · AED 4.1bn in 48 h	1,442 · AED 6.6bn	1,260 · AED 5.5bn	3.0 mo	1,360	81%
The Wilds	5 Mar 2025 · 734 villas · AED 5bn	893 · AED 6.3bn	851 · AED 5.9bn	3.7 mo	1,875	92%

- 3,552 homes and AED 17.9bn of new sales are on the Dubai Land Department record for the three launches, over 2.6 years. The Wilds raised AED 6.3bn from only 893 homes because it is priced highest; Athlon raised AED 6.6bn from 1,442.
- The land register lags the launch by 3 to 4 months. Sales announced at the event appear on the record only when contracts are registered, so DLD data show a launch late. Expect the new project's numbers to show up in spring 2027, not at launch.
- Most of the volume comes in months 3 to 9, then a tail. Month-12 totals (851–1,260 homes, AED 4.0–5.9bn) are the best yardstick for a first-year target.
- International demand is the engine (77–92% of buyers are expatriates or overseas, per Aldar). Aldar's CEO told The National that "the international side... slowed a little bit" while "the customers are still there for the right product".
- Cross-check of the data: Gulf News reported three-bedroom villas at The Wilds from Dh5.1m at launch; the register's median three-bedroom price there is AED 5.5m.

Aldar's announced figures cover the sell-out of the first phases; the register also includes later phases, so it exceeds the announced totals.

Method in brief

- Data. 23,600 Dubai Land Department sale records (via the Bayut transactions service) were pulled on 16 October 2026; 18,542 form the comparison set after dropping 107 records with implausible price per sq ft and the records of communities kept for context only. Window: October 2021 to 14 October 2026.
- Price per sq ft = registered price divided by built-up area. To avoid mixing unit sizes, the headline comparison uses homes of 1,800–3,400 sq ft (the size of a 3- to 4-bedroom townhouse) sold in the last 24 months, and reports medians with the middle 50% of deals.
- New sale vs resale. "New sale" is the developer's first sale (off-plan); "resale" is any later sale, including off-plan contract assignments.
- Momentum compares the last 12 months (17 Oct 2025 – 16 Oct 2026) with the 12 months before. Medians need at least 20 deals per window to be shown.
- Why these peers. They are the tier-one master-developer townhouse and villa communities in the Dubailand and Dubai South corridor, where Aldar has built so far. Emaar's luxury The Oasis (median deal AED 15m, 2,160 new sales worth AED 37.7bn) is a different price tier and is shown for scale only. Sobha Hartland, Mudon and Nad Al Sheba record their homes under other categories and are not included.

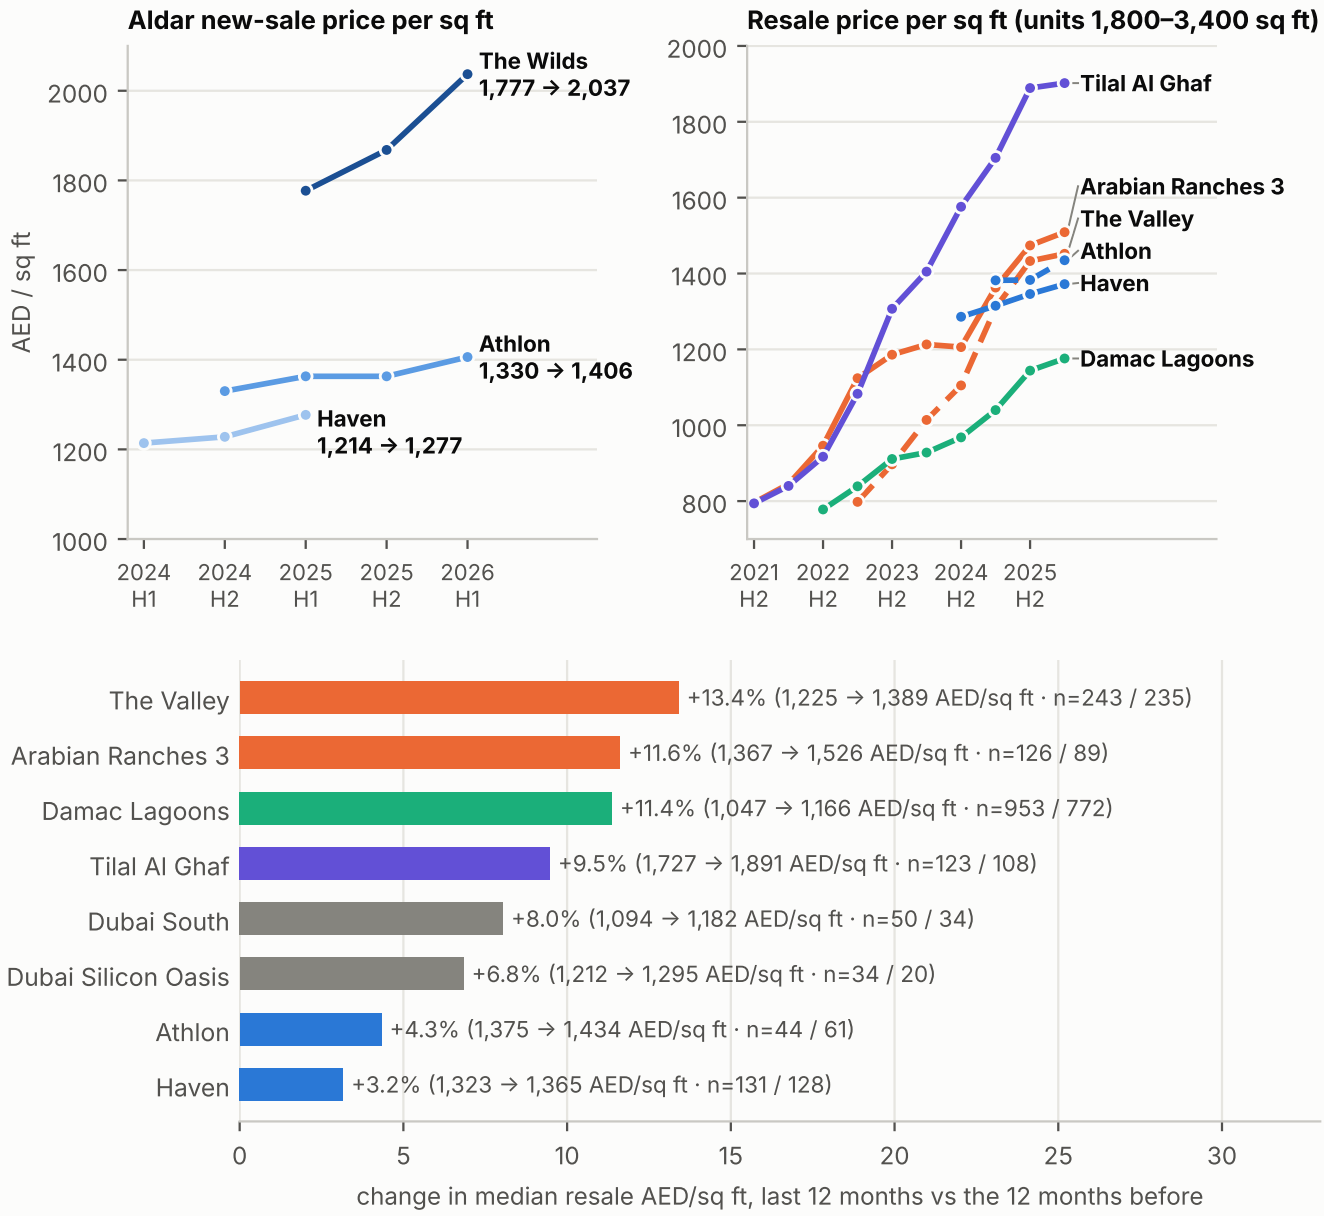

Price per sq ft today

- Aldar launches have been priced at or just under ready Emaar resale. Athlon's new sales (1,360) sit 2% below The Valley's resale (1,389) and 5% below Arabian Ranches 3 (1,430); Haven (1,228) sat 12% below. A buyer paid roughly the price of a finished Emaar townhouse for a home delivered years later, with a payment plan.
- The Wilds broke the pattern: 1,875 per sq ft for the size band (about AED 5.9m median), level with MAF's mature Tilal Al Ghaf resale (1,817).
- Resale premium over the launch price is modest: Haven resells +9% above its new-sale median, Athlon +3%. Compare Damac Lagoons, where resale (1,103) sits 18% below the newest developer prices (1,339): many sellers, little premium.
- Ticket size follows the product: Athlon's median new sale is AED 3.88m, Haven's AED 2.89m, The Wilds AED 5.93m; Emaar and Damac townhouses clear at AED 2.85–2.99m.

Sizes 1,800–3,400 sq ft, sold 17 Oct 2024 – 16 Oct 2026. Dots are medians, bars the middle 50% of deals. Built-up area as recorded by the Dubai Land Department; developers may quote on a different (sellable) area.

Price momentum

- Aldar's new-sale prices rise in steps. Within a community they creep up (Haven 1,214 → 1,277 over a year; Athlon 1,330 → 1,406); between launches they jump (+11%, then +38%). The Wilds moved from 1,777 to 2,037 in a year as later phases launched.
- Emaar and MAF resale prices have compounded. Tilal Al Ghaf 794 → 1,902 (+140% since 2021-H2), The Valley 798 → 1,452 (+82% since 2023-H1), Arabian Ranches 3 796 → 1,509 (+90% since 2021-H2).
- Aldar's resale growth lags. +3.2% (Haven) and +4.3% (Athlon) against +9.5% to +13.4% for the four tier-one peers. The likely reason is timing: off-plan contracts trade near the launch price until a community is built and lived in. Aldar's first Dubai handover (2027) is the test.
- Even the leaders flattened late: resale prices at Valley, Lagoons and Tilal dipped slightly since 1 July 2026 (small samples), so do not extrapolate +10% a year.

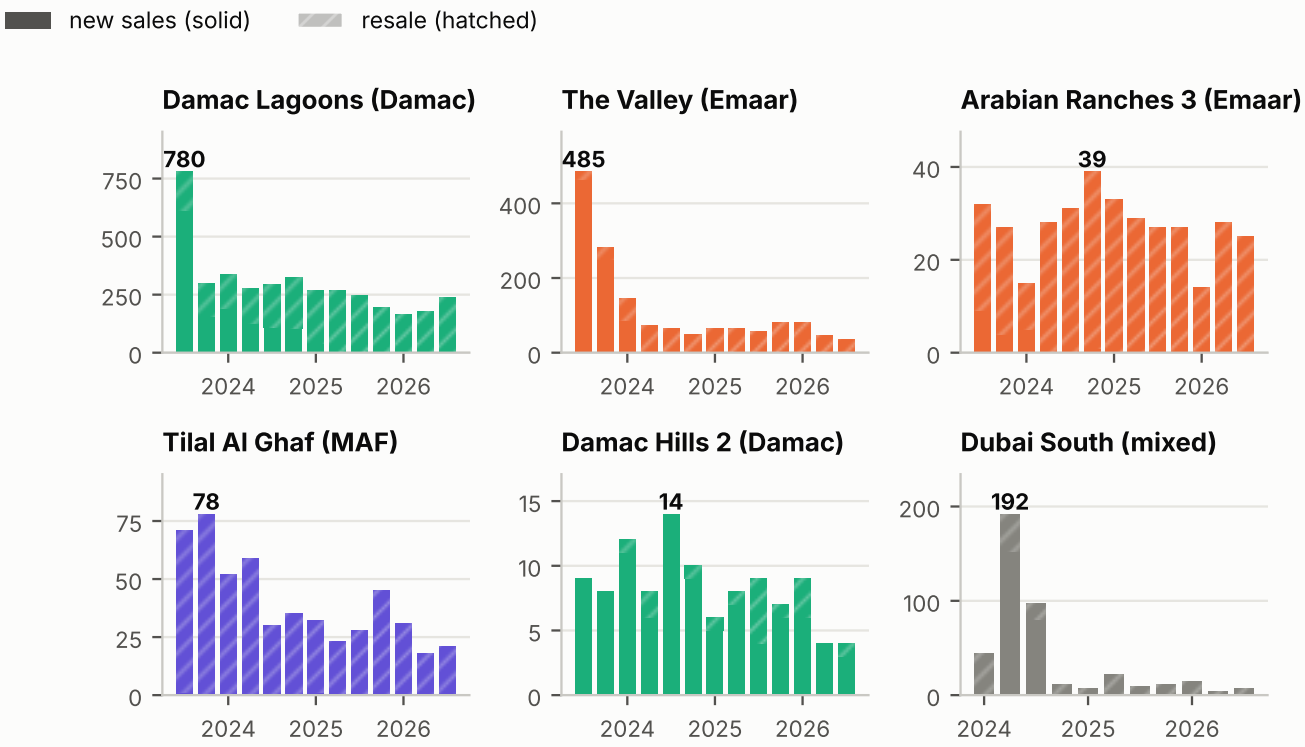

Half-year medians, 1,800–3,400 sq ft homes, at least 10 deals; the part-period since 1 July 2026 is left out of the lines.

Sales momentum

Aldar: a spike at each launch, then a tail

Peers: steadier, and mostly resale now

- Launch quarter: Haven 834 registered new sales in 2024 Q2, Athlon 478 in 2024 Q3, The Wilds 774 in 2025 Q3; then 20–50 a quarter. Each spike appears on the land register 3–4 months after the sales event.
- Damac Lagoons is the volume benchmark: 9,393 deals and AED 22.3bn since December 2021, still 165–325 a quarter, and almost all of it resale now (100% of the last 12 months). Emaar's and MAF's older communities trade 20–80 a quarter.

Registered transactions per quarter to mid-October 2026 (last bar is a part-quarter). Aldar panels share one scale; peer panels do not.

Volume, liquidity and investor behaviour

Volume: the last 12 months against the 12 before

Community	Deals, last 12 months	Deals, 12 months before	Change	Value, last 12m	Value, prior 12m
Haven	135	430	-69%	AED 0.58bn	AED 1.61bn
Athlon	139	621	-78%	AED 0.89bn	AED 2.86bn
The Wilds	100	804	-88%	AED 0.87bn	AED 5.48bn
Damac Lagoons	773	1,052	-27%	AED 2.26bn	AED 2.81bn
The Valley	235	243	-3%	AED 0.81bn	AED 0.82bn
Arabian Ranches 3	89	127	-30%	AED 0.29bn	AED 0.37bn
Tilal Al Ghaf	108	124	-13%	AED 0.46bn	AED 0.49bn
Aldar, three communities	374	1,855	-80%	AED 2.34bn	AED 9.94bn

- Aldar's three communities registered 374 deals in the last 12 months against 1,855 in the 12 before (-80%), because each launch burst has passed. Damac Lagoons (-27%), Arabian Ranches 3 (-30%) and Tilal Al Ghaf (-13%) cooled; The Valley is flat (-3%).
- Emaar's volume has moved to The Oasis: 2,160 new sales worth AED 37.7bn in the register (median deal AED 15m). Reidin ranks it the top off-plan villa location of Q1 2026 by value (AED 9.71bn in one quarter).

Liquidity: who sells, and how soon

Community	Deals	Resale share	Median time from purchase to resale	Resale vs new-sale price	Completed homes among deals
Haven Aldar	1,501	19%	411 days (14 mo)	+9%	0%
Athlon Aldar	1,547	7%	390 days (13 mo)	+3%	0%
The Wilds Aldar	904	1%	239 days (8 mo)	n/a	0%
Arabian Ranches 3 Emaar	1,091	44%	786 days (26 mo)	n/a	20%
The Valley Emaar	2,198	35%	667 days (22 mo)	n/a	12%
Damac Lagoons Damac	9,393	29%	749 days (25 mo)	-18%	6%
Tilal Al Ghaf Majid Al Futtaim	1,093	78%	778 days (26 mo)	n/a	41%

- Aldar buyers sell early, into a thinner market. The median resale comes 411 days (about 14 months) after purchase at Haven and 390 days at Athlon; Emaar and Damac buyers hold 22–26 months. Early resales are mostly off-plan assignments: a sign of investor-heavy buying, and resale is only 19% / 7% of deals, against 44% at Arabian Ranches 3.
- Completed stock is the missing proof point. No Aldar Dubai deal is a completed home; 20% of Arabian Ranches 3, 41% of Tilal Al Ghaf and 6% of Damac Lagoons deals are. Reidin lists 3,802 Damac Lagoons handovers announced for Q2 2026.
- For the new project: expect an investor-heavy first phase and assignments about 12–14 months after launch, at a modest resale premium (+3% to +9%) if priced near Athlon.

Reading across

- Where Aldar wins: pricing power at launch, sell-out speed, and (for this project) a transit location the peers cannot match.
- Where Aldar trails: after-market price growth, depth of resale, and a Dubai delivery track record. These are the three things a buyer pays for after the launch event.
- Tier-one is not one price. Within a 3- to 4-bedroom size band the spread between Damac's resale (1,103) and MAF's (1,817) is 65%: location and community maturity matter more than the developer's name.

Tags are the analyst's reading of the numbers in this study, not ratings. Emaar's Dubai Hills Estate, Sobha Hartland and Nakheel's Palm Jebel Ali are outside the data set.

Expected price per sq ft

We expect the launch price for homes of 1,800–3,400 sq ft to land in a base case of AED 1,400–1,650 per sq ft.

Evidence	AED per sq ft	What it tells us
Aldar launch ladder, new sales	1,228 · 1,360 · 1,875	Each launch priced 11% then 38% above the last. The new site is closer to Haven and Athlon in product and location than to The Wilds.
Aldar resale today	Haven 1,335 · Athlon 1,397	The market price of Aldar's own off-plan product: a new launch cannot sit far above this without a reason.
Ready Emaar townhouses, resale	The Valley 1,389 · Ranches 3 1,430	The ceiling a cautious buyer compares against: a finished, delivered home.
Silicon Oasis villas, resale (older stock)	1,295 (last 12 months)	The neighbourhood already trades above Haven's launch price: location support.
Market direction	Dubai Q3 2026: transactions −38%, value −47%	Pushes a launch toward the lower half of the base case unless the product is exceptional.

- Conservative (1,250–1,400). Aldar prices like Haven and Athlon to protect the sales pace in a soft market. Floor: Haven's 1,228; cap: The Valley's resale (1,389).
- Base case (1,400–1,650). A step above Athlon for the Blue Line and a newer phase, but still below what the best ready Emaar townhouse resells for plus a modest allowance.
- Stretch (1,650–1,900). Wilds-style premium (The Wilds' newest sales reached 2,037). Needs a landmark product and a strong event.

An analyst estimate from public transaction data, not an Aldar price or a promise; Aldar has said nothing about pricing. Built-up area as recorded by the DLD; Aldar may quote on another basis.

What it means in dirhams, and how sales may unfold

What it means in dirhams

Unit (reference size)	Conservative 1,250–1,400	Base case 1,400–1,650	Stretch 1,650–1,900
3-bedroom townhouse ~2,290 sq ft	AED 2.9–3.2m	AED 3.2–3.8m	AED 3.8–4.3m
4-bedroom townhouse or villa ~3,120 sq ft	AED 3.9–4.4m	AED 4.4–5.1m	AED 5.1–5.9m
5-bedroom villa ~4,450 sq ft	AED 5.6–6.2m	AED 6.2–7.3m	AED 7.3–8.5m

Reference sizes are the median built-up areas of 3-, 4- and 5-bedroom new sales at Haven and Athlon in the register. The new project's unit sizes are unknown; scale by actual area.

Cross-checks

- Blended value per home. Aldar and Dubai Holding's Feb 2026 land deal: gross development value above Dh38bn for almost 14,000 homes, about AED 2.7m a home including apartments. Villas and townhouses sit above that average, which fits a base-case 3-bedroom at AED 3.2–3.8m. (We do not know that either plot is this project.)
- "Under AED 3 million" appears on third-party sites. It would be consistent with the conservative band for the smallest units only (2.9–3.2m for a 3-bedroom). It is not an Aldar statement.
- Aldar's own price history. A 3-bedroom at Haven registered at a median of AED 2.79m, at Athlon AED 3.11m; the base case is +3% to +21% on Athlon.

How the sales would unfold

Milestone	Reference from Aldar's record	What to expect
Launch event	734–1,000+ homes sold in days (Aldar)	First release sells out if priced inside the base case.
Months 0–3	Almost nothing on the land register	Do not read a quiet DLD record as weak sales.
Months 3–9	Bulk of registrations (928, 1,260 and 851 by month 12)	AED 4–6bn registered in the first year for a first release of similar size.
Months 9–24	20–50 homes a quarter per community	Later phases drive any new spike; prices step up with each.
Month 12–14	Median first resale 390–411 days after purchase	Assignments begin; a resale premium of only ~3–9% over launch.

Risks, and what to ask at launch

Risk	Evidence	Effect on the estimate
Cooling market	Dubai Q3 2026 transactions −38%, value −47% year on year (Cavendish Maxwell).	Lower half of the base case; slower tail.
International demand	77–92% of Aldar buyers are expatriates or overseas; the CEO says that side "slowed a little bit".	Fewer buyers at the same price; incentives more likely.
Supply	About 14,000 more Aldar / Dubai Holding homes planned; 3,802 Damac Lagoons handovers announced for Q2 2026 (Reidin).	More resale competition from 2027.
Delivery	No completed Aldar home in Dubai; first handover due 2027.	Buyers may want a discount to Emaar or a firm date.
Transit date	Blue Line opening is a target (9 Sept 2029), not a guarantee.	Location premium is partly a bet on that date.
Data	The register lags launches by 3–4 months; areas are built-up, not sellable; the site is unconfirmed.	Estimate band is wide on purpose.

How the launch price maps to the outcome

If Aldar launches at (AED per sq ft)	Likely sales pace	Resale outlook for early buyers	Our read
Up to 1,400 (conservative)	Sell-out in days; deepest demand	Reasonable: Haven resells +9% over launch	At or below the price of a ready Emaar townhouse
1,400–1,650 (base case)	Sell-out in days to weeks	Modest: Athlon resells +3% over launch	Fair for a Blue Line location; needs a delivery date
1,650–1,900 (stretch)	Slower first phase; incentives likely	Thin: The Wilds shows almost no resale premium	Priced like Tilal Al Ghaf, a mature community

Analyst judgement from the patterns in this study; resale premiums are medians for the last 24 months.

What would move the view

- Price at or under ~1,400: sell-out in days is very likely; resale upside improves.
- Price 1,650–1,900: premium launch; expect a slower first phase and a thin resale premium.
- A named handover earlier than 2029: supports the higher end.
- More Dubai Q4 weakness: pushes toward the conservative band.

Questions to put to Aldar at launch

1. Price per sq ft and the area basis (built-up or sellable, plot size) for each home type.
2. Payment plan, including the share due before handover and any post-handover period.
3. Handover date per phase, escrow account and Dubai Land Department project registration.
4. How many homes the first release holds, and how many are held back for later phases.
5. Service charges, walking distance to the Blue Line station, and rules for assigning your contract before handover.
6. The project's advertising permit number (rules differ by emirate; check before promoting).

Limits of this study

- The project's name, size, location, price and handover are not public. Every price here is an estimate, not an Aldar figure.
- Prices are registered contract values, not asking prices. Off-plan contracts record the developer's price at sale, with payment-plan terms not shown.
- Built-up area from the Dubai Land Department may differ from the developer's brochure area.
- The Bayut service groups Aldar's, and some other developers', townhouses and villas under different categories. The peers shown are the ones with a usable record; others (Sobha Hartland, Mudon, Nad Al Sheba, Dubai Hills Estate) are not included.
- Small samples (under 20 deals) are not shown as headline figures.

Disclaimer

This is an independent analytical study for information only. It is not investment, legal or tax advice and not an offer to sell property. Aldar, Dubai Holding, Emaar, Damac and Majid Al Futtaim have not reviewed or endorsed it. Past price and sales patterns do not guarantee future results. Verify all project details with the developer and the Dubai Land Department, and follow the Real Estate Regulatory Agency's rules before marketing any off-plan project.

Appendix: the data and the terms

The sample, community by community

Community	New sales	Resale	First and last new-sale registration	Median size (sq ft)
Haven	1,217	284	2024-03-04 to 2026-09-29	3,105
Athlon	1,442	105	2024-08-07 to 2026-10-05	3,113
The Wilds	893	11	2025-06-25 to 2026-10-02	3,350
Arabian Ranches 3	611	480	2021-10-11 to 2024-12-04	1,997
The Valley	1,433	765	2021-10-05 to 2024-09-24	2,285
Damac Lagoons	6,632	2,761	2021-12-16 to 2026-04-29	2,273
Damac Hills 2	103	16	2023-03-07 to 2026-09-23	1,697

Dubai South	255	283	2021-10-05 to 2024-09-09	2,553
Dubai Silicon Oasis	13	145	2022-01-26 to 2026-02-25	3,857

Counts are after removing price-per-sq-ft outliers. Median size is of all deals in the community. "First and last new-sale registration" are DLD registration dates, not launch dates.

Terms used

Term	Meaning in this study
New sale (primary)	The developer's first sale of a home, usually off-plan, registered with the Dubai Land Department (DLD).
Resale (secondary)	Any later sale of the same home, including assignment of an off-plan contract before handover.
Off-plan / completed	Off-plan: not yet built or handed over. Completed ("ready"): built and handed over.
AED per sq ft	Registered price divided by built-up area, as recorded by the DLD. Not the plot area.
Size band	Homes of 1,800–3,400 sq ft built-up, the range of a 3- to 4-bedroom townhouse; keeps unit size from distorting prices.
Registration lag	Months between a sales event and the contracts appearing on the DLD record (3–4 for Aldar launches).
GDV	Gross development value: the expected total sales value of a project.
Base, conservative, stretch	Analyst scenarios for the launch price per sq ft of the unnamed project; not Aldar's figures.
